På rejse

Jeg har rejst hele mit liv. For mig er årsskiftet vintersolhverv. Der starter mit nye år, og igen går rejsen rundt om Solen.

Vores smukke klode bevæger sig glidende gennem universet. Vi bemærker det vel stort set ikke – og når året er slut, gentages rejsen i det store univers rundt omkring vores livgivende sol.

Bestille billet! Husk at få det hele med i kufferten! nå frem i tide! Forsinkelser! Vejrproblemer! Tekniske problemer! – Glem det alt sammen. Til vores fælles rejse rundt om Solen skal du ikke en gang gøre dig fortjent til at rejse med, ej heller betale for en billet. Kan det være nemmere?

I kirken kan vi lytte til myten om Jesus, lidelse og genopstandelse. En myte nedskrevet af vores forfædre for nu mere end to tusinde år siden. Dengang havde disse lærte hverken viden eller fantasi til at forstå, hvor fantastisk en rejse, vi som menneskehed i virkeligheden er på.

Ugens fotografier er billeder fra min rejse i fly over Grønland i januar 2018. Det er Solens farve og lys, der lader landskaberne under os fremtræde i al deres skønhed.

On a journey

I have travelled all my life. For me, the turning of the year is the winter solstice. That is where my new year begins, and once again the journey around the Sun begins.

Our beautiful planet moves smoothly through the universe. We hardly notice it – and when the year ends, the journey is repeated in the vast universe around our life-giving sun.

Book a ticket! Remember to pack everything in your suitcase! Arrive on time! Delays! Weather problems! Technical issues! – Forget it all. For our collective journey around the Sun, you do not even have to earn the right to travel, nor pay for a ticket. Could it be any easier?

In the church, we can listen to the myth of Jesus, the Agony, and the resurrection. A myth written down by our ancestors now more than two thousand years ago. Back then, these learned individuals had neither the knowledge nor the imagination to understand what an incredible journey we as humanity are truly on.

These photographs of the week are images from my travel by plane in Greenland in January 2018. It is the colour and light of the Sun that allows the landscapes beneath us to appear in all their beauty.
