

A photograph of a work of art – or a photographic work of art?

This day in The Christmas 2016 we visited the ARoS Aarhus Art Museum. The museum is in the centre of the town, Aarhus, in Denmark. From a long distance, you can see the first offer of exiting art of the art museum: Olafur Eliasson's work Your Rainbow Panorama on the art museum's building.

Wondering how many people have stumbled over the curb or loose cobble since the work of 2011, because instead of keeping an eye on where they walk, they had to stare at this marvellous circular work in the colours of the rainbow?

This Christmas day, the rays of the sun formed a new perspective with light and shadow, and my camera caught these visitors behind the blue glass as a part of this fascinating work.
