Forgængelighed

November måned; køligt, lavtstående sol, regnfuld, rim i græsset om morgen, tidligt mørkt. Overalt ligger sommerens efterladenskaber: Reminiscenser af de grønneste blade, frugter fra træer og buske, fuglene er ved at forberede rejsen mod syd.

November er for mig en eftertænkningens måned. Tid til lige at tænke over tilværelsen efter en sommer med alt for mange gøremål.

Ingen liv uden død. Reminiscenserne af sommerens grønne landskab, får mig til at tænke på min egen forgængelighed.

Mortality

November month; coldly, low-hanging sun, rainy, frost on the grass in the morning, early darkness. Everywhere lie the remnants of summer: reminiscences of the greenest leaves, fruits from trees and bushes, birds preparing for their journey southward.

November, for me, is a month of reflection. A time to pause and think about life after a summer filled with too many tasks.

No life without death. The reminiscences of the summer's green landscape make me reflect on my mortality.
